Corinna Laughlin

“Source and Summit: Exploring the Mass”

Wednesday - February 13, 2019

7-8:30pm

In the Sanctuary

Corinna Laughlin is Pastoral Assistant for Liturgy at St. James Cathedral. Corinna also serves as a Consultant to the Liturgy Office of the Archdiocese of Seattle. Corinna's writing on liturgy has been featured in many publications. She is the author of the Guide for Sacristans, Guide for Servers, Guide for Celebrating Holy Week and Triduum, and, most recently, The Liturgy: The Source and Summit of our Christian Life, all from Liturgy Training Publications. With her sister, Maria Laughlin, she co-authored Journey of Faith: An Illustrated History of the Archdiocese of Seattle.

Source and Summit: Exploring the Mass

The Church describes the liturgy of the Mass as the “source and summit” of the Christian life. What does that mean? In this presentation, we’ll go deeper into the meaning and mystery of the Mass. Community gathering, school for disciples, holy sacrifice, and missionary sending: the Mass is all these and more.

Added gift for this evening: All St. John’s Liturgical ministers are invited to an hour dinner with Corinna, before the talk. This will take place from 6-7pm. Please contact Laurie Moloney at lauriem@sjtbcc.org if you plan to attend the dinner.

Held at St. John the Baptist Catholic Church
